Linder Technical Services 10th Annual "Networking" Conference Sept. 7-9, 2007

This weekend event will be attended by 300+ technicians and shop owners from all across the U.S. and Canada. Approx. 15 hours of technical training classes will be offered along with a top-notch trade show. No alignment racks and brake lathes at this show, but only the best in automotive diagnostic equipment.

Check out this year's list of classes:

- | | |
|---|----------------------|
| • Tire Pressure Monitors: | Dave Scaler |
| • European Driveability: | Randy Dillman |
| • Chrysler Update: | Tom Freels |
| • Transmission "Insights": | Wayne Colonna |
| • GM Body Controls: | "Mystery" instructor |
| • Doug's Dirty Dozen: | Doug Garriott |
| • Modern Starting and Charging Systems: | Mohammad Samii |

Complete class descriptions and instructor bio's will be available online, just click on the LTS "Networking" Conference 2007 link on the homepage.

Not only will you have a chance to grab tons of new information during the class sessions, but each evening we will have hospitality suite open at the hotel where you can sit down and "network" with other technicians. We are told year after year that attendees learn almost as much from these nighttime gatherings as they do during the technical sessions during the day.

Weekend Agenda:

Join us on Thursday evening (Sept. 6) at our shop on Gasoline Alley for a pre-conference open house and cookout. The official conference kick-off will be Friday at 12:30pm with classes and trade show running all day. Classes will begin again at 8:30am on Saturday morning and run until dinner with trade show and giveaways later in the evening. Don't miss out on tons of great prizes! Classes will be held again on Sunday morning and conclude around 1pm. If you're making arrangements to fly to our conference, make sure your return flight leaves after 3:30pm so you won't have to miss any classes!

CONTEST!!!

We are once again offering a FREE LTS training class to the GROUP who has the most technicians attend our September conference. Last year it was a close race between David DeCoursey's group from Massachusetts and the Professional Master Technician Association (PMTA) from Kentucky. We expect another close race again this year as the SAT group had a strong showing as well.

Here are the rules:

1. Your group MUST be registered in advance with Michele by calling 888-809-3835 or sending an e-mail to: michele347@juno.com You may NOT show up the day of the conference and register your group.
2. As your people register for our conference, MAKE SURE they fill in the blank on the registration form for "group affiliation" so they will be counted with your group.
3. The totals will be counted in advance, so make sure you follow the above rules so everyone gets counted!

The winning group will receive a FREE LTS class of their choice in their hometown.

GOOD LUCK!
